

SENATE SENDS
REVISED DRAFT
BILL TO HOUSE

Compromise Includes
Drastic Industries
Conscript Clause

BULLETIN
Washington, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Peacetime draft legislation, requiring registration of approximately 16,500,000 men 21 through 35 for military training, was finally approved by congress today and dispatched to the White House.

The president's signature enacting it into law is expected to be affixed early next week, setting in motion machinery which will send the first 75,000 draftees to camps in November.

The house took the final legislative step this afternoon when it approved a compromise between senate and house versions of the conscription measure a short time after the senate gave its assent by a 47 to 25 vote.

Washington, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The senate approved and sent to the house today a final compromise version of the peacetime conscription bill making approximately 16,500,000 men from 21 through 35 years old subject to immediate registration and possible draft for a year's military training.

The vote was 47 to 25. House approval of the measure, expected to follow quickly, would send the legislation to President Roosevelt, who had urged its speedy enactment.

The senate's action came after it had sent the bill back to a joint senate and house conference committee by a 37 to 33 vote last night with instructions to its conferees to insist on the adoption of a house-approved clause giving the government power to commandeer industrial plants where the owners proved recalcitrant about accepting or speeding up defense orders.

This provision, much more drastic than a compromise version previously written into the measure by the conferees, was adopted quickly by the joint committee and the measure returned to the senate for action.

Will Fix Prices
The 600-word section which the committee accepted on senate instructions and which thereupon became a part of the bill provided, in principle, that once the president had placed a defense order, the manufacturer should accept it at a price declared to be "reasonable" by the secretary of war or the secretary of navy.

If the manufacturer declined to give the government preference on this order, or refused to fill it, the government could step in and operate the plant, paying a "fair and just" compensation. The manufacturer would be subject to maximum penalties of three years' imprisonment and $50,000 fine.

This provision contrasted with the committee's compromise version which opponents assailed as "vague" and "unenforceable." That would have authorized the government to take over plants only if the secretary of war or the secretary of navy certified that the public necessity was immediate and there was no other source of supply.

Senator Russell (D-Ga.) co-author with Senator Overton (D-La.) of the original senate section discarded by the conferees, led the fight which resulted in the senate vote.

Opponents Gleeftul
Gleeftul, such opponents of conscription as Senators Wheeler (D-Mont.), Clark (D-Mo.) and Norris (Ind-Neb.) jumped into the battle on Russell's side.

Against these, however, Senator Barkley, the Democratic leader; Senator Burke (D-Neb.), a co-author of the bill, and Overton all argued that the conference amendment was better than either that had gone before it, and threatened, in fact, more drastic curbs on what they called "chiselers" in industry.

Despite this effort by the leadership, administration forces divided on the vote, with such as Byrnes (D-SC), Green (D-RI), Guffey (D-Pa.), McKellar (D-Tenn.), Schwelmbach (D-Wash.), Wagner (D-NY) and Lee supporting the move to send the report back to committee.

On the other hand, only three Republicans, Capper of Kansas, Johnson of California, and Wiley of Wisconsin voted for the motion.

Illinois Parents Talk With Son at South Pole
Springfield, Ill., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Paul Perce, stationed near the South Pole with Admiral Richard E. Byrd's Antarctic expedition, chatted by short wave radio last night with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Perce of nearby Williamsville.

Paul, who reported the temperature outside his radio shack was 68 degrees below zero, first asked of his infant daughter, who was born after he left home with the expedition more than a year ago.

Unusualities

Bicycle a Jinx—
Dunn, N. C., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Farmer J. J. Parker bought his children a bicycle.
He went riding and broke a leg. His little daughter tried out the wheel the next day and broke her nose. His son hopped on it next and started for the family groceries.
He fell and broke an arm.

An Honest Man—
Newark, N. J., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Diogenes would have liked Mendel Mendelson.
When a man gave him a dollar bill for a ten-cent cigar last night, the 62-year-old druggist handed over the stogie and turned around to get some change. Then the "customer's" companion flourished a gun and said:
"This is a holdup. Gimme your money."
"You get out of here," Mendelson replied.
The bandits ran with Mendelson after them, shouting "Hey, here's your change."
One of the men stopped, took the 90 cents and started running again. Mendelson returned to his store.

Woodpeckers' Song—
Cortland, N. Y., Sept. 14.—(AP)—A new siding was placed on the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sampson today after the Sampsons threw up their hands in despair at a Blitzkrieg staged by woodpeckers.

"Why it's been terrible," Mrs. Sampson complained. "They start at daylight, six or eight of them at a time, and bang away until dusk. The folks who lived here before us shot 25 or 30, but just as many more came back. They have been busy since last March."

Sampson admitted he tried a gun and also hung poison meat on the walls.
"You can shoot away all you want at them," he said, "but before you are inside the house they are hammering away again. As far as poison salt pork is concerned, they are too smart to touch it."

Sampson viewed the job of placing asbestos cement shingles on his house and commented:
"If they get through that, I certainly don't know what we can do."

Convict Former Union Chief of Stealing Funds

New York, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Scalise, former president of the Building Service Employees' International Union (A. F. of L.) was convicted early today on five counts of an indictment accusing him of stealing $9,662.27 of the union's funds.

A general sessions court jury, after deliberating for 17 and three-quarters hours, reported convictions on four counts of third-degree forgery and on one count of grand larceny. The jury could not agree on five remaining counts of grand larceny.

Scalise faces a maximum sentence of five years on each forgery count and 10 years on the grand larceny charge.

Originally the indictment contained 60 counts, but the number was reduced to 10 during the trial. Arrested April 21 in his New York hotel room, the squat, 43-year-old union boss of 70,000 building service workers was indicted five days later on charges of conspiracy and extortion. The next day he resigned as president of the union.

His arrest was directed by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey. On May 29, a grand jury indicted Scalise on charges of larceny, forgery and embezzlement involving $60,087.27 of union funds. It was on this 60-count indictment that he went to trial August 12. Today's verdict was the result.

The grand larceny conviction was on a count accusing him of appropriating $2,857 of union funds on deposit in the Sterling National Bank of New York last March 29. The forgery counts of which he was convicted accused him of falsifying the records of the union by submitting four criminally-erroneous monthly expense statements for June and October of 1937, February, 1938, and August, 1939.

"Exploratory" Activity
On Desert Frontier Is Increased by Italians

Rome, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Intensified "exploratory" activity by Italian troops massed along the desert frontier between Libya and Egypt was reported today by the high command.

Details of the Italian operations were withheld, and the communiqué failed to mention air bombardments of British positions on the Egyptian coast for the first time in a week.

British encampments in the Ras El Sil zone north of Gallabat, in Sudan, however, were reported bombed.

Air attacks on two British convoys in the eastern Mediterranean by Italian bombing and torpedo planes were announced, with one freighter reported damaged so badly that it probably sank.

WILLKIE DENIES

'INDISPENSIBLES'

GOP Nominee on Tour
Through Illinois
Cities Today

Aboard Willkie train enroute to Kansas City, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Wendell L. Willkie, beginning a campaign swing through the corn belt, said today at Joliet, Ill., that four men in the world—Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin and President Roosevelt—regard themselves as indispensable.

"I don't happen to think so", added the Republican presidential nominee, whose voice was extremely hoarse as a result of a heavy speaking schedule yesterday in Chicago.

"We have a man in the United States who says, 'I am indispensable because of my knowledge of foreign affairs'. Was it extraordinary skill when he tried to promote the Munich pact?"

"Franklin D. Roosevelt has handled foreign affairs in the last seven years in a bungling and incompetent way. One day he is an interventionist. The next day he is an isolationist. Whatever crowd he happens to be talking to is what he advocates."

Reiterates Pledge
Willkie reiterated his statement that he would not send American soldiers to take part in a European war, and added:

"If you elect me president, I'll rebuild your economic system, build a great defense program and create national unity so that America may survive stronger and stronger to aid in the rebuilding of liberty throughout the world."

Willkie was introduced by Dwight Green, Republican candidate for governor of Illinois.

The crowd at the Joliet station overflowed the plaza and filled nearby streets.

The Republican presidential standard bearer left Chicago on his special train for downstate Illinois at 7:59 a. m. (C. S. T.) asserting:

"I'm going to insult Kelly-Nash now and continue to, and when I'm elected I'm going to take the Kelly-Nash machine to neither regions."

His reference was to the Democratic political organization headed by Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago and Patrick A. Nash, chairman of the Cook county central committee.

Great Chicago Reception
In contrast to his appearances yesterday before steel and stockyard workers and a noisy, confetti-throwing crowd downtown, the Republican presidential nominee's week-end schedule called for brief train stops in downstate Illinois and southeastern Iowa.

He was expected, however, to reiterate generally the theme of his talks here—a pledge of more jobs through economic improvement, a demand for a strong defense program, and opposition to political "bosses".

At the end of a 75-mile auto trip through the industrial sections of the nation's second largest city, Willkie expressed pleasure last night over his reception.

Estimating that he had seen "almost a million citizens", he said friends had told him that more people were jammed in the loop district than at any time since the welcome for Col. Charles A. Lindbergh after his transatlantic flight in 1927.

A shower of ticket tape and torn telephone books greeted the candidate in the business district, where crowds broke through police lines and repeatedly stopped his 40-car procession. Mrs. Willkie, standing beside her husband, tossed roses to the surging crowd from two big bouquets.

Speaks Seriously
Willkie wore a broad smile and waved both arms during his city tour but his face was serious when he gave his impromptu talks. The last of these came at dusk to a gathering in a negro ball park.

"At every opportunity", Willkie told the crowd, "I have struck at all types of intolerance that have come my way. The negro people are entitled to every right that every other citizen is entitled to."

"If elected, I will see that relief is continued—without discrimination—until we can get the wheels of industry started."

In all his talks he declared that his election would mean "more and more jobs, and as the years go on, higher and higher wages". Willkie told a gathering near the Carnegie-Illinois steel plant that the country "cannot get strong through a process of spending and wasting more money."

"Do you want spinach or work?" he shouted.
There was a cry of "work!" from some in the audience. Among the crowd there were a few persons carrying signs reading: "Steel workers want Roosevelt and Wallace."

The War Today!

By DWIGHT MACKENZIE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
You and I are in the same position today as the British government, our attention being divided between Hitler's threatened invasion of Britain across the milling waters of the English channel and Mussolini's proposed assault on Egypt over the killing wastes of the desert—both ranking among the most difficult military operations of all time.

I mention this distraction because it represents an important element of the axis strategy—making the British defend themselves on two vital fronts at once. However, while II Duce's maneuvers haven't yet developed to the point where we can say that they are more than a mirage amongst the sand dunes, the bloody assault on England (invasion or no invasion) maintains its terrific pace.

Again the Germans returned to a tortured but stubbornly determined London for a nerve-shattering night of bombing. And again it would appear that civilian morale ranks above all other objectives, although the blasting of this great rail and industrial center certainly is of vast military importance.

The British Royal Air Force continued to hammer at German bases and communications along the continental coast where the fleet of barges and small boats is being assembled for possible invasion. That's the English game now—to smash concentrations of boats, supplies and troops, and disrupt rail communications.

Speakers to Dixon

Speaker Hugh Cross of the Illinois House of Representatives and candidate for the lieutenant governorship, will head a caravan of Republican candidates in a tour of northern Illinois cities next week, which will bring them to Dixon for a meeting in the Circuit court room in the Lee county court house at 7 o'clock Monday evening. Others in the party, who will speak here, are George F. Barrett, candidate for attorney general, and Justus L. Johnson, the party nominee for secretary of state. All voters are invited to hear these men discuss the campaign issues.

The speakers go to Sterling from Dixon for a meeting the same evening and will tour Whiteside and Carroll counties Tuesday, arriving in Freeport for an evening meeting at the Stephenson county fair. On Wednesday they will be in Mt. Morris at 11 a. m. and at Rochelle at 12 o'clock noon. Wednesday evening and Thursday will be spent in Rockford and Winnebago county, and the itinerary takes them into DeKalb Thursday evening. Friday will be spent in LaSalle county.

WAR AFFECTS PERFUMES
Washington, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Blame the war, if milady cuts down on perfume.

A commerce department report from Sofia, Bulgaria, said today that shipment of Bulgarian rose oil, an important base of American perfumes and cosmetics, virtually had been stopped since Italy entered the war and the Mediterranean was blockaded.

Republican candidates for the senatorial nomination were Albert K. Mitchell, cattleman, and former Gov. R. C. Dillon.

Gov. John E. Miles and former Gov. Clyde Tingley sought the democratic gubernatorial nomination. Republican candidates were Maurice Miera, follower of the late Sen. Bronson Cutting, and Seth Alston, banker and cattleman.

Bomb Fragments

London, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Air-raid wardens and auxiliary firemen, on the lookout for time bombs dropped by Nazi air-raiders, roped off a section of park in which they discovered a hole in the ground about a foot across.

Then they retreated to see what would happen.

Three hours later... out popped a family of rabbits.

Everybody in London who hasn't got one is trying to buy a "barage brawler"—a tin hat. However, the stores are sold out, and the ministry of supply has requisitioned all available stocks for soldiers, sailors, A. R. P. workers, nurses and doctors.

Shell splinters on the streets are "pennies from heaven" to cockney boys, who sell them to souvenir hunters.

Residents of a North London area are trying to get a Boy Scout bagpipe band ousted from its practice hall because they mistake the skirls for sirens, but the scoutmaster is standing firm.

"The music of the pipes helps more than anything else in times like these," he argues.

Overhead when bombs started to fall:

"Hug the wall," said the first man.

"Save your breath," said the second man. "I'm practically a mural now."

400 Midshipmen to "Drop Anchor" on the Northwestern Campus

Chicago, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Four hundred midshipmen will "drop anchor" on the Chicago campus of Northwestern University Monday in preparation for the opening sessions of the naval reserve midshipmen's school.

The first class, entering Monday, has completed a one-month cruise in Atlantic waters aboard the U. S. S. Arkansas, Wyoming, and New York.

Similar schools will be opened this month in Annapolis and New York City, but the Chicago unit will be the only one operated in conjunction with a university. It will produce 2,000 of the 5,000 new reserve officers which the navy wants this year, training groups of 400 in the fall, winter and spring quarters, and 800 next summer.

By agreement with the navy department Northwestern will furnish housing facilities for the midshipmen in Abbott hall, the new 20-story dormitory being occupied for the first time this fall.

Senator Blames "Foreign Agents" for Explosion

Kenvil, N. J., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Activities of "foreign agents" were blamed today by Senator Barbour (R-N.J.) for the explosion at the Hercules Powder company that killed at least 48, and within five frightful minutes blasted more than a score of buildings of the 2,000-acre plant.

While state police checked membership rolls of the German-American Bund against the roster of plant employees, Senator Barbour in a statement in Washington said he believed "when the facts are known, it will be discovered that it Thursday's explosion) was due as in the case of the Black Tom (Jersey City, N. J.) disaster of the pre-World War period to the activities of foreign agents."

The Air War—
German bombers hold London under seventh successive all-night alarm; setting fires in central area; three alarms today; British warplanes drop bombs in Holland and northern France but are beaten back, Nazi sources assert, in attempted raids over Germany; German spokesman claims continuing raids on London have forced Britain to draw preponderance of air defenses to London.

The Balkans—
King Mihai of Rumania welcomed his mother, Princess Helen, after her 10-year exile; General Ion Antonescu, Rumanian military dictator, issues new decrees designed to tighten his grip on the country; ex-King Carol takes up temporary residence in hotel on Spanish Mediterranean coast near Barcelona.

BULLETIN

Berlin, Sept. 14.—(AP)—London will be bombed relentlessly unless it surrenders, a well-informed source told foreign newspaper men today.

This spokesman declared that one-third of England's war potentials are stored within the British capital, as well as 46 percent of the nation's imports, and that the city therefore is a military objective of the first magnitude.

"No city of the future will be built along London's lines", he said.

(By The Associated Press)

Neutral military observers predicted that the next 48 hours would be a period "of intense danger of invasion to Britain" as the Nazi air force rounded out a week of steady mass attacks on London today.

An authorized German spokesman said, however, that Adolf Hitler alone would determine when Britain is "ripe for the final assault."

Cautioning against the futility of speculation on "Nazi time schedules", the spokesman said Hitler would "not be hurried" in setting the zero hour for the long-threatened invasion.

While Nazi military circles contended their aerial preparation was well in hand, Britain still stoutly resisted.

The Germans said a sign of the growing effectiveness of their raids was the shifting of most of Britain's air defenses to the London area, thus leaving the rest of Britain more open to assault.

The British, however, told of meeting the German raiders with a veritable aerial "minefield" of anti-aircraft shells.

Dropping of German bombs in west and southwest London was acknowledged, with the Germans coming over at 10 to 15-minute intervals, but no reports of serious or widespread damage were made.

"Berlin Barbarians"

Commenting on the German bombing of Buckingham palace yesterday, the London Daily Mail declared editorially that attempts to assassinate heads of states were part of the calculated policy of what it called "the Berlin Barbarians."

The Germans said bombs dropped "in the vicinity of" the royal palace were aimed at oil storage tanks, but the Mail compared the bombing with attacks allegedly directed at King Haakon of Norway and Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands during Nazi invasion of those countries.

The German object, it said, was "to destroy every rallying point of national sentiment and character and to reduce civilized peoples to the ghastly mould of the Nazi robots."

On the African front, thousands of Italian troops were reported moving up to the Libyan-Egyptian frontier, giving rise to speculation on the imminence of a possible offensive against the Land of the Nile.

Rumania's new dictator, General Ion Antonescu, decreed the supervision of commerce and industry in that country by state commissioners who must be of "ethically pure" Rumanian stock.

Observers said he apparently was seeking to make good on his announced determination to run the country without interference from any political group—something of a problem, since he took charge without organized backing. Carol, the king he deposed, paused at Sitges, Spain, with his woman friend, Magda Lepescu. The couple was expected to continue to Portugal after several days.

FOR YEAR-ROUND COMFORT

THIS compact little house, with its efficient and convenient floor plan, is definite proof that good design and low cost are not incompatible.

Although its appearance is that of a small house, ample room is presented in the plan which includes a good sized living room, two bedrooms with adequate cross-ventilation, a bathroom, kitchen and dinette.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. How can heat loss be reduced in an unfinished attic?

A. If an attic is not used or floored and there is no necessity for keeping the space at a comfortable temperature, insulation may be applied above or below the floor joists of the attic or in the space between the joists. If there is necessity for keeping the attic heated, however, the insulation should be applied above, below, or between the roof rafters. Attic windows should be weathertight, and if there are louver or vent openings they should be tightly covered during cold weather. Spaces between the studs at the floor line should be boarded over to block the free passage of air from within the walls. This measure is also a precaution against fire.

Q. What is meant by the term cricket or saddle in connection with roof construction?

A. At the back of a chimney which extends through a sloping roof, the slope of the roof is altered in such manner that the roof water is made to flow quickly toward either side of the chimney. This is usually accomplished by building a miniature roof sloping in two directions, which prevents the water from being dammed up by the chimney. This miniature roof is termed a cricket or saddle. They should be covered with a corrosion-resisting sheet metal and properly flashed with the chimney and roof so as to be made water-tight.

Q. Should a basementless space under a house be ventilated?

A. If the basementless space is enclosed, provision should be made for foundation wall vents. There should be at least two of these vents, and their size should be proportioned on a basis of one square foot of effective free opening for each 15 lineal feet of exterior wall. Openings should be protected by noncorrodible screening of not over one-eighth-inch mesh.

Q. How thick should mortar joints be in brick-masonry wall construction?

A. Although no definite relationship has been proven, walls with thin joints, about one-fourth inch, tend to have a somewhat higher strength than those having thicker joints. For standard brick, a one-half-inch joint is most useful in forming patterns and bonds, and since two headers plus the joint approximates the length of the stretcher. Five-eighth-inch and three-fourth-inch joints are used extensively, the difference in unit length of a stretcher and two headers plus joint being compensated by variations in the width of the vertical joints. Walls having joints three-fourth-inch or over require more time for erection and will therefore cost more than if a thinner joint is used.

Five Ways in Which To Acquire Your Home

Before any house plan can be selected intelligently you must know what your family needs in number and size of rooms and closets, the storage area and wall space required, and other numerous details that make for comfort in a home. When these things are known and finances have been considered you can proceed soundly. Whether to buy or build demands careful thought and a short description of the various ways of acquiring a new home may help you decide.

(1) One method is to buy a house ready-built by some developer or builder. This is the simplest way and solves the problem if it is just what you want, in a location you like, and at a price you can afford. It is the only method that enables you to see the finished product before you buy, but you must be a good judge of construction and property values, and you should satisfy yourself that the hidden parts are as good as the parts you can see.

(2) In the second method, you buy "stock" plans and have the house built according to their specifications by a reliable contractor. Such plans cost from $2 per set up to $5 or more per room. Bids may be invited from several good builders to make certain that the price to be paid is fair. Extra costs, not covered in the general contract, such as grading, planting, hardware, etc., should be added and the total kept within your budget.

(3) "Stock" plans may also be obtained through certain architectural groups at prices which include limited but highly desirable professional services such as minor adaptations of the plan to your special needs, aid in getting bids, preparation of contracts and periodic supervision of construction. This method brings to the owner expert guidance at low cost.

(4) Fourthly, there is the single contract method by which the developer or contractor undertakes to provide a completed home, ready to move into, for a price set in advance. This includes planning, financing and construction.

(5) The fifth method of building your home is to hire your own architect. He will render a complete service from the making of sketches and preparation of working drawings and specifications for the home, obtaining bids, aiding in the award of contracts (including preparation of all contract documents) to full supervision of construction to make certain that the contract is fulfilled.

built under the FHA insured-mortgage plan should be selected with due regard for the architectural character of the home, as well as for personal preference. Tall narrow windows give the effect of height; broad low windows will make a house look wider.

Color Determines Illumination
Dark walls absorb light just as a sponge soaks up water. A room with dark-colored walls which is not exceptionally well illuminated by daylight requires more artificial light in the evening. With dull dark walls light is dim and struggling. With clean light walls both electric bulbs and daylight spread their radiance to better advantage.

DESIGNED FOR INFORMALITY

SKILLFUL handling of simple architectural motifs and material has produced a picturesque result here. The plan of this house, which may be placed to advantage on a narrow lot, is a popular type and has been arranged with unusual convenience and regard for the joy of "householding."

The plan offers opportunity for variation. For instance, if a small family built this home it would be a simple matter to transform the 8'9" x 10' bedroom into a dining room and make the dinette into a den.

MODERNIZE TO IMPROVE SALES VALUE OF YOUR HOME

Houses lose value and depreciate for three reasons: (1) exposure to the elements; (2) constant use; and (3) obsolescence from the standpoint of architectural style and convenience.

Depreciation due to weather and wear is easily controllable—witness the hundreds of good, old American homes in perfect condition after one or more centuries of service—but loss of style and inconvenience, which have the most direct bearing on actual market or rental value, formerly were not. Today, however, the rapidly developing art of modernization is providing the physical means of restoring to substantial, but outmoded homes, their departed value.

The principal reasons for permitting a house to "grow old" are indifference and an absence of financial ability to keep it young.

Nothing can be done about the first, but now there has been provided, on a basis almost any householder can afford, a financial solution for the rebuilding and revaluing problem. Never has there been a time when new value could be given an old house with less financial stress. Through insuring the loans which banks and other agencies make for the improvement of homes, the Federal Housing Administration is providing billions of dollars for the use of home improvers everywhere on extraordinary liberal terms.

Improvement loans may be had in any amount from $100 to $2,000. No down payment or mortgages are required and loans may be repaid in low monthly installments covering a period as long as five years.

No longer must you live in an old style, inconvenient home. Everything which can be done to ease the path of home owners who wish to keep a valuable property valuable has been done.

Your first step in your modernization plan is to see your lumber dealer. He can assist you in bringing your house up to date.

DOWNSPOUT DAMAGE

Leaky and corroded gutters and downspouts often cause serious building damage. They may result in ruined and unsightly walls and ceilings as well as cause considerable deterioration of exterior materials. Experienced workmen can easily and quickly repair or install new flashing over door and window openings and roof intersections and around the chimney, pipe vents, and other openings and projections. At the same time they can clean gutters and downspouts of dirt and litter and repair them or install new ones if necessary.

Ogle Women Turn Out for Play Day

About 90 Ogle County Home Bureau women were dining together yesterday at the Coliseum in Oregon at the organization's second annual Play Day party.

Games suggested by Mrs. Kenneth Clark of Lindenwood, recreation chairman, opened the day's program at 10 a. m., followed by stunts arranged by Mrs. Walter Kane of German Valley and her committee. Following a scramble luncheon at noon, there was a half-hour musical program, planned by Mrs. James Hay of Oregon, music chairman; and additional games.

Mrs. Harlow Hills of Oregon was in charge of children's games. Mrs. Fred Deuth, Jr. of Oregon arranged floor games, and table games were planned by Mrs. R. R. Stonebraker of Mt. Morris, Mrs. C. C. Stengel of Polo headed the kitchen committee, and Mrs. Earl Arnold of Oregon served as hostess chairman.

Mrs. Ellis Kugler of Amboy, a visitor from the Lee County Home Bureau, won the largest number of blue ribbons in games played during the day. Mrs. Perry Myers of Franklin Grove was second.

Mrs. Ralph Hayes of Kings, chairman of White Rock-Flag unit, was presented with a walnut gavel for 100 per cent in attendance. Washington Grove unit, headed by Mrs. Ralph Sanford of Ashton, received a prize for the largest number of invited guests. Washington Grove members were accompanied by eight visitors.

Miss Violet V. Blodau is home adviser of the Ogle County Home Bureau.

DIXON TRAVEL CLUB WILL OPEN SEASON

Members of the Dixon Travel club are announcing their opening meeting of the 1940-41 season for 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Johnston of 210 Morgan street. Mrs. Edna Pine is Mrs. Johnston's co-hostess.

The program will be a trip through the medium of colored moving pictures to Natchez, New Orleans, Yellowstone National park, Port Huron, Sault Ste. Marie, Mackinac Island, and back home to Franklin Creek and vicinity.

HOUSE WARMING

Mrs. Minnie Lindbloom, who has moved from 316 Sherman avenue to 619 Fourth avenue, was surprised Thursday evening with a house-warming at her new address. Her sister, Mrs. Harry Johnson, was instigator of the party.

A rust-colored chenille bedspread was the group's gift for Mrs. Lindbloom.

ELMHURST GUEST

Miss Lorraine Murphy of Elmhurst is spending the weekend in Dixon as the guest of Miss Mary Trombold, a former collegemate at the University of Illinois.

Fall Headliner: Pompadour

Beautiful Olivia de Haviland, like many Hollywood stars, is wearing a pompadour these days. The arrangement at left is Miss de Haviland's favorite version. At right, the front of the hair is waved softly and made to simulate bangs. In both cases, the back of the hair is brushed smoothly downward and arranged in a deep chignon on the nape of the neck. Hair is parted behind ears and across top of head.

P-T. A's Bring Culture to Dixon School Children

American children might hardly be expected to associate fun with opera, but the imagination and enterprise of a New Jersey mother have worked this and even more startling musical miracles. Believing that good music can also be good fun, Mrs. Dorothy McFadden of Maplewood, N. J., began a courageous campaign to bridge the artificial gap which formerly existed between music and fun, a campaign resulting in the sensational success of a non-commercial organization, Junior Programs, Inc.

Agreeing with Junior Programs that "only the best is good enough for children," members of Dixon's Parent-Teacher associations formed a committee last year to bring Junior Programs, now in its fifth season, to Dixon.

Three Shows

A series of three performances—a ballet, a play, and an opera—will be presented in the Dixon high school auditorium, beginning with a new and exciting version of the ballet "Robin Hood," on Monday evening, Oct. 14. Old English music, authentic folk dances, together with ballet and modern forms are combined in the story, featuring Edwin Strawbridge.

On Feb. 17, a new American play, "Run Peddler, Run!", will be staged. The play, written expressly for Junior Programs by Charlotte Perry, is a thrilling story of New England in the year 1730, with the life and customs of the times authentically mirrored in the adventures of two young Irish immigrants.

The concluding show will be a new American opera, "Jack and the Beanstalk," on April 30. The music is by Louis Gruenberg, and the libretto, by one of America's foremost writers, John Erskine.

Junior Programs started primarily as a booking agency but Mrs. McFadden soon discovered that a sufficient variety of suitable entertainment for children did not exist. So this New Jersey housewife, who had never had a day's business experience, took another bold leap. She resolved that Junior Programs would have to go into producing.

Finding no suitable plays, she engaged John Louw Nelson to write a Hopi Indian drama, "The Reward of the Sun God," and immediately produced it. She took over "Hansel and Gretel" from the National Music League, and produced it with improvements. Then she engaged Edwin Strawbridge, the dancer, to do a ballet, "Pinocchio." She translated the libretto of Rimsky-Korsakoff's opera "Bumble Bee Prince" and gave it its first production in America. Strawbridge later prepared an entrancing dance-play version of "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

Travel By Motor

Junior Program tours have been booked from Canada to Florida, and as far west as Oklahoma. To save expenses and meet their schedules, the companies travel from town to town by car, with their scenery in a truck. Last year they drove 30,000 miles and filled 242 engagements. Junior Programmers have astonished their sponsors by the humor with which they recount their journeys through rain, mud, ice, and dust-storms in making their engagements.

Somehow, the fact of playing to eager audiences of children gives these tours an aspect of adventure that makes hardship seem trivial. Performers experience a thrill and a satisfaction that they sometimes miss in adult audiences.

The charge to any community for a series of Junior Programs shows covers only the salaries of the artists and their traveling expenses. The maintenance of the New York office, and the salaries of production and office staffs (running to some $15,000 a year) is met by Mrs. McFadden by soliciting contributions from public-spirited friends.

Cost of the three performances for Dixon school children has been lowered to a minimum. Mrs. W. A. McNichols is general chairman for the project, and Mrs. Winston Edwards is in charge of publicity. Presidents of the various Parent-Teacher associations compose the committee.

Herzog-Keegan Bridal Is Read

Miss Mary Ellen Keegan, daughter of Mrs. Mary Keegan of Polo, became the bride of William Herzog, son of the Louis Herzogs of Amboy, in a nuptial service solemnized at 7 a. m. today at St. Mary's Catholic church in Polo. The Rev. Father Alfred Dietsch read the vows.

Mrs. John Herzog of Amboy, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, was Miss Keegan's only attendant. Jack Keegan of Polo, the bride's brother, served Mr. Herzog as best man.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of white net over satin. Her fingertip veil was edged with Chantilly lace, and was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms and white roses. She carried a colonial bouquet of white asters, tube roses, and blue delphiniums.

Mrs. Herzog was wearing peach-colored bengaline. Her bouquet contained blue asters and blue delphinium.

Mrs. Keegan, the bride's mother, wore aqua crepe, accented by a shoulder corsage of cream-shaded roses and peach gladioli. Mrs. Herzog chose wine-colored crepe, with a corsage of gladioli and asters.

A wedding breakfast was served for 15 relatives at the Keegan home near Polo, following the ceremony. Afterward, when the couple left on a week's wedding trip to the Smoky mountains, the bride donned a three-piece suit of rose-colored wool, with blue accessories.

The bride was graduated from Polo Community high school with the class of 1933. The bridegroom, a graduate of Amboy high school, is employed as a plumber at Amboy.

The couple will reside in Amboy.

MISS ODENTHAL TO BECOME BRIDE

Announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Arlene Marie Odenthal to Byron W. Blum was made Thursday evening when Mrs. Hubert Osborne of Mt. Morris and Mrs. Tryon Rosbrook entertained guests at the Fred Odenthal home. Twelve friends were present to honor the bride-to-be who is planning an autumn wedding.

Card games were pastime, with favors going to Mrs. Ed Whitney, Miss Dorothy Spangler, and Mrs. Carl Blum. Others attending were Miss Peggy Moore, Mrs. Albert Bothe, Miss Arlene Wolfram, Miss Lois Rooker, Mrs. Henry Remmers, and the hostesses.

MRS. SNYDER REACHES 80

Mrs. Ben Snyder of 109 East Seventh street will be the special guest at a family gathering arranged for tomorrow in Oak Park in honor of her eightieth birthday anniversary of today. Four of Mrs. Snyder's sisters, her brother, and nieces and nephews will be among the guests, who will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Paul Dickson.

Sisters of Mrs. Snyder attending will include Mrs. Dickson, Mrs. Claud Sears, Mrs. Jennie Lynn, and Miss Elizabeth McDonald, all of Oak Park. Her brother, Mike McDonald, and the Jacob Snyders, Mrs. Minnie Miller, and Mr. and Ben Snyder will be among the Dixon guests.

Mrs. Snyder was born at Natchez, and has always resided in or near Dixon.

SON OF MENDOTA WOMAN CLAIMS BRIDE IN WEST

Mrs. Morton Kingsley of Los Angeles, Calif., is announcing the marriage of her daughter, Miss Florence Kingsley, to Mark Huss, son of Mrs. Florence Huss of Mendota, July 17, at Colorado Springs, Colo.

The bride formerly attended the University of Iowa and is a member of Pi Phi sorority. The bridegroom is a graduate of Mendota high school, and later attended Worthing college at Waverly, Iowa for two years. He also was enrolled at the University of Colorado for two years, and is completing his education at a law school in Boulder, Colo.

The couple will make their home in Boulder.

RURAL YOUTH TO HAVE GUEST NIGHT

Thursday evening will be Big Brother-Big Sister Night for Lee County Rural Youth, when each member will be privileged to bring a senior student from high schools throughout the county. The affair will be held in the Masonic hall in Amboy at 8 p. m.

Miss Rose Murtaugh of Amboy, Rural Youth president, announces that Dr. Barboracoff of Freeport, medical director of district No. 3, State Department of Public Health, will address the group on the subject, "It is the Law." James Colgan will be in charge of recreation, which will be followed by refreshments.

Any young person interested in becoming affiliated with Rural Youth is invited to attend next week's meeting.

P-T. A. OPENS YEAR'S PROGRAM

Forty-five members were present at the opening meeting for the Stony Point Parent-Teacher association last evening.

Mrs. Lee Lambert was at the piano for the opening song, "God Bless America," followed by the state president's message, read by Mrs. John Stanley. The remainder of the program included a poem, "Common Ground," read by Mrs. Lambert electric guitar selections by Miss Lois Munsell; readings by Miss Rilla Webster; games, and a social hour.

Mrs. Donald Bay, the president, conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Joseph Hink, secretary of the association, announced a district conference to be held in Sterling, Sept. 25.

The social committee included Mrs. Edward Stanley, Mrs. Elliott Risley, Mrs. Ralph Cross, Mrs. Norman McClanahan, and Mrs. Lambert.

Franklin Grove Lutheran Church

Pictured here is St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church of Franklin Grove, known from 1865 to 1887 as St. Paul's Union Presbyterian and Lutheran church. The 75th anniversary of the church was celebrated with special services both morning and evening on Sunday, Sept. 1.

Large congregations, which overflowed into the church yard, attended the anniversary services, including visitors from Ashton, Dixon and other towns. A public address system carried the programs outdoors for those who could not be accommodated in the auditorium.

The Rev. H. Foelsch of Lakeland, Fla., a former pastor, gave the morning sermon, "Bless the Lord O My Soul." In the evening, Dr. Doermann of Chicago, president of the Illinois district, brought a message on "The Word of God," and greetings were heard from the Rev. S. L. Cover, pastor of the Church of the Brethren; the Rev. F. Louis Grafton, Presbyterian pastor; the Rev. Ralph M. Dreger from the Franklin Grove Methodist church; the Rev. L. C. Wagner of Dixon, and August Blobaum of Oregon.

The robed choir sang, directed by their pastor, the Rev. F. W. Henke of Ashton. Miss Cora Schaefer was at the organ. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers, which were later presented to shut-ins and the aged.

In the morning, dedicatory services were conducted for a new altar cloth and pulpit hanging presented to the church in memory of Miss Mary Worley. The altar linens were gifts from Mrs. August Reinhart and her daughter, Mrs. Harry Gleim.

The church was organized in 1865 by the Rev. William Uhl, whose congregation consisted of 36 communicant members. Two years ago the church was recognized as the banner congregation of the entire American Lutheran church, maintaining 100 per cent attendance during the year. Its members have neared the same goal during the past two years.

A program will follow the chapter session.

PERSONALS

Dr. Raymond Worsley went to Chicago this morning on business for the day. Rocky Wolfe, Eddie Zajac and Eddie Hamilton, who came out from Chicago yesterday afternoon to assist in the dedication ceremonies at the newly lighted Dixon high school athletic field, returned with him to the city.

Robert Eustace Schuler of Birmingham, Ala., arrived today for a brief visit with his aunt, Miss Anna Eustace and other relatives. Mrs. J. W. Bushy and Mrs. Harry L. Swarts have returned from a visit at Lake Geneva Highlands, Lake Geneva, Wis., where they were guests at the cottage of Mrs. Grace Hoffman.

Dr. V. A. Auriene will attend a meeting for the Mid-State branch of the Illinois Association of Chiropractors at the Jefferson hotel in Peoria tomorrow.

Lowell Smith of Webster City, Iowa arrived last evening to spend a few days with his mother, Mrs. Thomas Hyde. He is observing a birthday anniversary today.

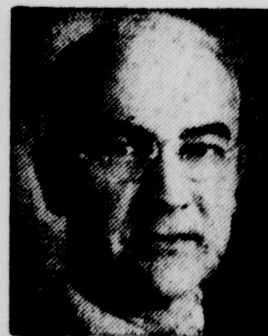

If you like to keep lace curtains pushed back during the day so that the view from the window is entirely unobstructed, hang them pinch-pleat on a pulley rod. In the evening they may easily be pulled across the window to make a decorative background.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and repudiated by those who surrender to the passions and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

Will Willkie Be Elected?

According to various polls, including the Gallup and Pathfinder tests of public opinion, Mr. Willkie is running ahead of the president by a whisker, and either contestant is apt to stumble before election day. The Pathfinder analysis gives Willkie a better break than Gallup—as of last reading.

Some Willkie fans think padded relief rolls and power of the purse will re-elect Roosevelt. These gentlemen are suffering from defeatism. They look down the hill instead of upwards. The truth is that a majority of the men and women in the United States earn their livings in the accustomed way. They render a dollar's worth of service in return for a dollar. They pay taxes, and the supposition is that they are getting fed up with whatever ails the country, nor should they be deceived by the prosperity brought about by the manufacture of munitions, necessary as that may be at this time.

The issue in this election ought not to be Willkie or Roosevelt. We believe Willkie is a fine executive. In private life he achieved more success than Roosevelt ever did. On the other hand, we believe that Mr. Roosevelt, detached from politics, would be a fine neighbor, a good bridge or dinner host. But the average American citizen could be excused for not being excited about either of them in their capacities as Citizen Willkie or Citizen Roosevelt.

Citizens are interested in Roosevelt because he represents certain things, and in Willkie because he represents certain other things. Study the records and utterances of the two men, and it is easy to see how they differ. The election is not primarily between Citizens Willkie and Roosevelt, but between the things Roosevelt symbolizes, and the convictions of the Hoosier.

If the people are going to vote for Mr. Willkie, but at the same time continue to press for the things they stood for in 1934, 1936 and to a certain extent in 1938, then they might just as well have these things under Roosevelt as under Willkie—with this difference: They probably would last longer under Willkie. If we are all going to continue to be New Dealers after Willkie is elected (if he is elected) then we are headed toward the deep end anyhow.

We need a change in the national philosophy. A change in national philosophy would carry any administration along with it, if it were made known by courageous voters who would not only vote their convictions, but speak them openly.

Mr. Roosevelt was elected in 1932 largely on a conservative platform because he believed the people wanted budget balancing, debt reduction, etc. Later, after the famous 100 days, he learned that the people wanted something else, so he upset his platform and tried to deliver that, regardless of the safeguards erected to prevent such dangers. He clings to that opinion still. He has made an issue of it.

The issue needs to be met squarely.

Woe to the Vanquished

Those who thought the French had tasted the full bitterness of defeat when their capital fell and their soldiers were disarmed did not look deeply enough into the cup of despair.

Now there is a report in Washington that the German government has formally demanded of France, unoccupied France, 58 per cent of all the food and raw materials it possesses or that it may import.

Whether this is accurate or not we cannot say. It seems likely. Germany needs food. France is prostrate and helpless. Germany takes the food. That is the law of conquest, and has been ever since Brennus threw his sword contemptuously into the scales weighing out the ransom money for Rome, and snarled contemptuously at the protesting senators. "Vae victis!"—"Woe to the vanquished!"

France shrank from making sacrifices for victory. Now she has defeat—and makes the sacrifices just the same.

Design for War

In the midst of war, British architects are busy. They are designing the dwellings of the next war, or of the later stages of this one if it lasts long enough.

Houses are without windows—because many bombing injuries are caused by flying glass. The bedrooms, which are in the center of the houses, are built as bomb shelters, the beds in cubicles of resistant construction.

Town design is similarly affected. The houses are in rows along the pattern of hedgerows. Most of them would have flat roofs covered with green-gray shavings. A few would be painted bright red. Thus, from a plane, the town would look like a mere straggling village, hardly worth bombing.

Dispatches don't mention the matter, but one supposes that the red-roofed houses will rent for a little less.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Sept. 13—Roosevelt and his leaders got their heads together for adjournment of congress a week from tomorrow—but their whole plan slipped and fell on the sugar problem. The heavy sugar senator from Louisiana, Mr. Ellender, sold Chairman Pat Harrison of the finance committee on the necessity for legislation to continue the administration quotas and Harrison in turn sold it to the president. As a result they agreed to hold up adjournment another ten days in order to take care of this situation, before election.

But there may be another reason, not so sweet. Interior Secretary Ickes and CIO's John Lewis have, without publicity, been exerting the strongest inside pressure for a mine inspection bill which Ickes considered so vital that he fired his own director of the bureau of mines for failing to support it. The measure has been blocked by the house mining committee but Ickes and Lewis are trying to fire it also. Their campaign for signatures to discharge the committee had reached 204 a few days ago (217 signatures were necessary). They lost six the following day when that many representatives withdrew their support.

But both the sugar and the mine bill are considered by Democratic politicians to be worth keeping in session, especially as Senator Ellender was heard to remark at the Democratic convention in Chicago the nomination of Wallace would be so distasteful to Louisiana sugar growers that Willkie would carry the state, and the fact that the shutting Lewis is vitally needed on the stump by the Democratic committee.

Strangest collection of advertisers ever assembled is listed in the Democratic national convention book, sometimes called "The Racket Quadrangle." You don't find such products as Pepsodent, Nylon, or women's corsets, but the architects to the housing authority, Trenton, New Jersey, $250 worth; the groups of housing architects, Baltimore, $625; Mobile slum clearance architects and engineers, $125.

These unusual "advertisers" obviously received income from the government, but apparently so did a majority of others in the unusual assemblage. There are 19 easily identified construction companies, who had no more chance of getting any business out of such an advertisement than had the Trenton architects, Trucking, metal products, and building supply companies that sell to the government were likewise among those who do not usually advertise except every four years in the Democratic handbook.

Of at least two, it cannot be said the government is furnishing their source of income: Tanforan race track, California, $2,500 and Westchester Racing Association, $1,250—or could it.

F. D. R.'s assiduous defense-inspecting campaign for re-election did not work out as well as it looked. The technique was all right for movies and publicity photographs. The Republicans had learned and were about to advertise the fact that Roosevelt's visit to defense plants actually held up the defense program about three days in each spot visited, as employees had to scrub up the floors the day before he came, pose while he was there, and take a day to get back to work afterward.

His openly political labor speech, therefore, heralds a change of tactics. There is now to be no doubt that he is running for the presidency and the synthetic illusion that he is too busy to be interested in politics, is to be dropped.

In some offices around the Democratic national committee, F. D. R. is now known as "Mr. Only." He is making all decisions.

The Willkie people are getting ready to smoke Roosevelt out on a fourth term. A demand will be made that he proclaim his intentions now for 1941.

VIRGINIA SCHUMACHER (Continued)

Virginia Louise Schumacher, eldest daughter of Herbert J. Schumacher, was born at Humboldt, S. D., on May 18, 1915, and passed away on Sept. 7, 1940.

In 1917 the family moved to Grand Detour, Ill., later moving to Dixon where her residence had been ever since.

In 1933 she graduated from the Dixon high school. She then completed a course at the Coppins Business School. For the past five years she had been employed in the office of the Glassboro Chevrolet Company, where she was competent and diligent in her work.

She was a member of Beta Sigma Chi sorority, a sorority for business girls. On Dec. 13, 1931, she made the confession of faith in her Lord and was baptized on Jan. 10, 1940. uniting with the First Christian church of Dixon, where she maintained a regular and active loyalty, being faithful in her attendance and support of the church and its activities.

On August 30, 1940 she was discovered unconscious from a mysterious sickness, and although all possible medical aid was given, she never regained consciousness.

Besides her father she leaves to mourn her untimely departure: her step-mother, Mrs. H. J. Schumacher, one sister, Mrs. Wm. Smith, Dixon; one brother, Carroll, at home; her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Albert Glessner, Grand Detour; aunts, uncles and other relatives besides a veritable host of friends and acquaintances who miss her contagious smile and cheerful disposition.

She was preceded in death by her mother in Feb. 1926.

Funeral services were conducted on Tuesday, Sept. 10, 1940 at 2:00 p. m. in the First Christian church, Rev. R. W. Ford, officiating and basing his remarks upon II Samuel 12:15-23 and Psalm 103:14, 15. Mrs. Esther Belle McLennan and Miss Savilla Palmer sang, with Miss Lois Fellows as accompanist. Casket bearers were Gene Goddard, Wes Kilmer, Lowell Whitebread, LeMar Wells, Randall Warfel and Corbus Hoffman.

Interment was in the Grand Detour cemetery.

Her suffering ended with the day; She lived she at its close; And breathed the long, long night away.

In statue-like repose. But when the sun in all his state, Illumed the eastern skies, She passed through glory's morning gate.

And walked in paradise. —James Aldrich

Deaths

MRS. CONRAD SALZMAN

Mrs. Conrad Salzman passed away last night at 11 o'clock at the home, 223 Chamberlin street, her death terminating a lingering illness. She was born in Beaverville, Ohio, March 28, 1858 and came to Dixon following her marriage to Conrad Salzman in June, 1890 at Chicago, and had been a resident of this city since. She had been a faithful and devoted member of St. Paul's Lutheran church since her coming to Dixon.

Surviving are her husband, Conrad Salzman; one son, Ralph of this city; one sister, Mrs. Fred Thonen, of Woodfield, Ohio, and many distant relatives and a host of friends. Funeral services will be held at the family residence Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the Rev. Lloyd W. Walter officiating and entombment will be in the Oakwood Memorial mausoleum. The body will be at the Preston funeral home until 2 p. m. Sunday.

JOHN H. BYERS

(Sterling Daily Gazette)

It is with a feeling of deep sorrow that Sterling people read of the death in Washington, D. C., of John H. Byers, secretary to Congressman Leo E. Allen. Struck by a hit-and-run driver several months ago, Mr. Byers had been in a hospital ever since, suffering untold tortures. Death undoubtedly came as a great relief. Yet John Byers was a man who loved life—loved it sincerely, truthfully—and who exemplified the words of the poet: "As we journey through life, let us live by the way."

He was always happy. If he had sorrows—and he undoubtedly did—he never showed them, never pressed them upon others. He worked long hours, driving himself to the limit, yet he was never too busy to aid his constituents and those with whom he was in daily contact. He was loyal to his superiors, courteous to his inferiors. As a member of the state legislature, he worked hard in the interest of his district. He was an orator of unusual ability and a newspaper reporter of worth.

There are many still alive who attended Lincoln school when he was its principal. They bear witness to his ability as an educator; had he elected to remain in the educational field, he would have gone far. Instead, he chose to enter politics—hardest mistress of all professions and the most precarious. He might have gained great heights had advancing years not held him back.

He died a poor man as wealth is counted in this world. But if wealth is measured by the friendships one has, John Byers was a millionaire.

OUR COUNTRY

Sixth of 24 articles on "Our Country," written exclusively for NEA Service and Dixon Evening Telegraph by the nation's most famous authors.

BY SHERWOOD ANDERSON

Author of "Dark Laughter," "A Midwest Childhood," "Puzzled America," etc.

It seems to me that in surrendering to the totalitarian idea, man is simply throwing away what men have fought and died for all during man's history. It must be that present day man is very tired.

So we are to glorify the state, that vague thing up there. We are to bow down to it. Individuality is to be thrown overboard.

The state, the people, the masses, the proletariat. How we run about babbling those meaningless words.

There is no such thing. Such words have no real meaning. There is to be this man—the leader—he only to develop his individuality. We are to make ourselves shadows of him.

It comes to that. What else?

Well, it will be more efficient. There will be no discussions, no questions. The leader speaks and we must blindly obey.

Everything man has gained to be thrown away. Each revolution, American revolution, the opportunity for the exceptional man to arise, freedom of speech, everything thrown aside.

For efficiency. Guns made faster, killing made easier—all of man's feeling, for man, that can grow only with the growth of individuality—all of this sacrificed to efficiency.

Are we that tired? It is all tiredness. What else? It is a dream of tired men. It is a throwing away of all responsibility of man for man. That is the totalitarian state.

Are we so tired of body and spirit that we make the state our mother, creep like babes to suck at the dry dugs of the state? It is a sickening thought—the final surrender to hopelessness. It must be stopped. Man must regain his feeling for man. And why not here, in America?

It is still a new, fresh land. All of our traditions cry out against surrender of freedom of movement, of speech, of the right of the individual to find his way to his own God to love and understanding of his fellow man.

It seems to me that there is again a chance for America to become as it was in early days the land of an old tired world's hope of renewal.

Because human reason has not yet prevailed, our arms must, writes Philip Wylie in the next article of this series on "Our Country."

SERIAL STORY

THIS COULD BE YOUR STORY

BY MARGUERITE GAHAGAN

COPYRIGHT 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

All characters, organizations and incidents of this serial are entirely fictitious.

YESTERDAY: Sue Mary goes to Youth Progress headquarters, helps Vera with typing. The place is a surprise to her, with young people intent upon affairs she has considered entirely out of her scope. Nick comes to see her there, asks her to go to a concert with him.

SUE MARY MEETS 'IDLE RICH'

CHAPTER VI

IT was a benefit concert to help war refugees and it was held in a small hall crowded with intense-faced young people and a scattering of older men and women whose foreign faces were serious until the music began. Some of it was familiar to Sue Mary; most of it was strange.

"That's by the modern Russian," Nick told her during intermission. "You get the feeling of power, and freedom, and mass happiness."

"I liked the Tchaikovsky," she said softly. "I know that one."

"Lavender and old lace," Nick said. "Like you: old-fashioned and very young—and sort of sweet. Different."

"Maybe there is something to this stuff about the sheltered girl. You're not like Vera or Natalie. They know what it's all about, and they'll get what they want. They're real workers. No illusions. You'll be a good worker, too. And yet you're sweet the way you are."

He wasn't making love to her. It was as though he was talking to himself. There wasn't that something in his voice that came to Joe's when he said goodbye after kissing her good night.

Something it was hard to think of Nick ever being sentimental; not with his usual cynicism, his worldliness, his drive and force.

Yet sometimes that evening, when she looked into his eyes and heard the music surging around her in waves of beauty, she experienced an entirely new sensation—almost a heady feeling of danger.

THE office seemed bleak and dull the next day. The five-day week made it necessary to double up on work. Kitty was gone and Miss Grant kept Sue Mary busy. It was late afternoon when Miss Grant asked her to go to the Clark home.

"Mr. Ross isn't feeling well and he wants to give some dictation," she explained. "Just notes," she added quickly. "You can do it easily. I can't leave because some-clients are coming in. Now go along. When you're through there you can go home and finish up that work in the morning."

It was the first time Sue Mary had been in such a home. The butler who admitted her took her to a small library with book-lined walls and dark polished furniture. Flowers gave a touch of color to the room and pictures of family groups in heavy, old-fashioned silver frames, desk ornaments, and a faint odor of good tobacco made it livable.

Like a movie set, she thought, wishing she could relax and enjoy, if only for these few moments, the luxury about her. How strange it must be to live in such a house day after day; accepting these things without even seeing them, taking them for granted as she took for granted her small room, her tiny radio, her few cakes of good soap and her one small bottle of perfume.

Someone had entered the room and Sue Mary came back to reality with a start. It was Mitzi Clark, last year's orchid debutante and the oldest daughter. She looked like her brother: blond hair, exquisitely groomed, poised and self-conscious.

With her was Joan Brant. Sue Mary recognized her, too, from the radio pictures. This year she was society's No. 1 glamor girl.

It was Mitzi who spoke. "You're from father's office?"

Sue Mary's voice seemed strange to her own ears. She tried to be calm and assume the young business woman role, but she felt terribly gauche, awkward, wrongly dressed.

"He'll be down eventually," Mitzi said, taking some books from the desk. "He won't exercise, you know," she explained, turning to the other girl, "and now he's working harder because of all this war stuff."

"I'm sick of hearing war all the time," Joan Brant said. "It's cut a terrible crimp in the social season. I would get a lousy break the year I came out."

Mitzi laughed. "Could be worse. Well, we have to get along," she said to Sue Mary. "Miss Brant's being a deb, I'm being a former deb. This is my afternoon at the day nursery. Funny, but I get a sort of kick out of it. Working with those dirty, smelly little kids, I mean. They have so little and are so grateful."

"I think I'll help Alice Simpson campaign for a new social center. She's up to her neck in welfare work and social reform. Oh, well, it's something to do besides play bridge and go to cocktail parties."

THEY were gone with a swish of perfumed frocks and a gleam of silken hose, the clicking of their heels tapping a tune on the polished floors. Sue Mary decided she liked Mitzi; liked her more than she liked her blond, polo-playing brother. She didn't seem to pretend, and she looked healthy and clean and as though she might have become a little tired of being called an orchid deb.

Sue Mary wondered what Vera and Natalie and Nick would say about the girls. In the few times she had been with them she had come to sense the bitter undercurrent of their talk about the "upper classes."

At first she had thought it just the natural desire to have the luxuries the ease, the fun that went with that life; desires that she had and took for granted. But she wondered now a little if it wasn't something that went deeper. They were so bitter about the "idle rich."

She didn't feel that way. She didn't hate Mitzi Clark because she had looks and wealth and all the good times that went with money. And she didn't hate old Mr. Ross Clark because he was a rich man. After all, he was responsible for her pay check.

Her thoughts were interrupted by his appearance at that very moment and from then on she was too busy to think of anything but keeping up with his dictation. While her fingers flew and she covered sheet after sheet in her notebook, she thought of the work for which he was responsible.

He was worried about the war. As attorney for the plane and auto factories, the war boom tripled his work at the office. New designs, new contracts, new patents; and a more noticeable veil of secrecy descending over it all. A rigid guarding of files; a closer guard on carbon copies; even a stricter check on shorthand notes.

It brought a sense of world upheaval closer somehow. Sue Mary had discovered that by simply switching off the war broadcasts and merely skimming the stories the situation could remain remote. But it wasn't so easy now with the feeling of tenseness existing in the office.

And, of course, on Tuesdays and the evening with Nick and Vera and Natalie one was bound to listen. She was glad the coming election was holding their interest. Their energies now were thrown in that direction, and she had found herself gradually being caught up in the thrill of the coming battle.

Dukes Trim Mt. Morris in Dedication Game, 14 to 0

FANFARE

By DON DANIELSON

CREDIT WHERE CREDIT IS DUE

Orchids to Rocky Wolfe, sports scribe for the Chicago Bears pro football team, for his witty play-by-play description of last night's game. We can understand now how boys like Rocky hit the big time and make good—he has something! In line for handshakes are many others who participated in the program. The American Legion drum and bugle corps directed by C. R. Thompson gave an excellent exhibition between halves of the preliminary game. The city band pepped up the program with several selections and the high school band, directed by Orville Westgor, paraded between halves of the heavyweight game. Dixon is proud of these organizations and their part in the program. Among those who participated in the formal dedication program were Principal E. J. Frazer, Superintendent A. H. Lancaster, Robert L. Warner, Mayor William V. Slothower, Edward Vaile, Walter Knack, Ward Miller, Robert Hill and Paul Potts. Their opinions were unanimous that the project is a success and their appreciation was the expression of the 2,500 fans. All in all it was a big, big show!

GRIDIRON KNOT

Walnut and Princeton battled to a 14-14 tie in the opening of their gridiron season on the Tigers' gridiron last night. This is Princeton's first year in the North Central conference football schedules.

BOWLING EXHIBITION

Eddie Zajac, ace Chicago kiegler who accompanied Rocky Wolfe here for the dedication last night, put on an exhibition of his kiegling skill at the Dixon Recreation yesterday before a packed gallery of enthusiasts. Larry Poole rolled two games with the Chicagoan and Zajac won the match with 209-224 for 433 while Poole scored 197-175 for 372. In a five-game match with Eddie Worley Zajac counted 217-158-172-213-178 for 938, while Worley counted 190-166-181-173-180 for 890.

LADIES TO BEGIN BOWLING MONDAY NIGHT

The Ladies league will open the 1940-41 season at the Dixon Recreation Monday night when 12 teams break into action. The first shift, starting at 7 o'clock, has been scheduled as follows: Amboy Royal Blues vs. Moose Lodge; Lakeshire Marty vs. Budweiser Gardens; Rainbow Inn vs. Kathryn Beards; Ray Carson's Service vs. Dr. Bend. At 9 o'clock the Ideal Cafe meets Dixon Recreation and the Soda Grill will meet Bon Ton.

TOPPING A BIG EVENING

In fair weather of good fellowship several of those responsible for last night's dedication success were entertained at a post-game dinner at the Bevilacqua home in Nelson. An Italian menu was served at midnight and Paul Potts acted as master of ceremonies. Mayor William V. Slothower made the presentation speech when Mrs. Bevilacqua was given a set of silverware in appreciation of her hospitality. Others who attended included E. L. Fulmer, Rocky Wolfe, Eddie Zajac, Eddie Hamilton, Earl Nolan, Charlie Roundy, A. C. Bowers, C. B. Lindell, L. E. Sharpe, Marvin Winger, Fred Parker, B. F. Cummings, Walter Knacks, Ward Miller, Dr. Raymond Worsley, Ken Detweiler, Earl James and Robert Hill.

DOUBLEHEADER AT WEST BROOKLYN

Two big games are to be played tomorrow afternoon at West Brooklyn as the Illinois State baseball league erases its postponed affairs. In the first game the host team will play Amboy and in the second Lee will tangle with Amboy. These games will conclude the season for all three clubs.

CHARLIE'S REGRETS

Only one disappointment marred the dedication game last night and that was expressed in the following telegram received late yesterday afternoon by Ward Miller: "Tried to make connections for trip but failed. My regrets on this and from me to the gang for a successful dedication of the field and good luck to the Dixon Dukes."—Signed, Charles Grimm.

SCOUTING FOR THE MOUNDERS

Coach Arthur Driver of Oregon and some of his football boys saw the game here last night. Oregon will play at Mt. Morris November 1 in a Rock River conference game.

SIDELINE CHATTER

Worthington Thomas, editor of the Mt. Morris Index, was on hand for the big show last night and during some sideline chatter he told us Nelson Potter of Mt. Morris, who pitches with the Philadelphia A's, is to be interviewed by John Herrington in a broadcast over the radio this night at 12-30. In the first game the host team will play Amboy and in the second Lee will tangle with Amboy. These games will conclude the season for all three clubs.

Eddie Anderson Believes He Has Found Successor to Nile Kinnick

By TOM SILER

Chicago, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Football practice is less than a week old in the Big Ten, but Eddie Anderson at Iowa already has come to a rather definite conclusion on the successor to Nile Kinnick at left halfback on the Hawkeye eleven.

Bill Stauss is the lad's name and he's six feet, two and weighs 190 pounds. Stauss, a sophomore, is much more versatile than Kinnick. No. 1 player of the 1939 season, but whether he has the graduated ace's gridiron "touch" is something else.

Anderson's "find" resides at Creston, Ia., where he was all-state in football and basketball and where he was a prep standout in passing, running and kicking.

Stauss already is running on the tentative varsity machine, with three others fighting to replace him—Jim Youel, Tom Farmer and Bob Bender.

At Ohio State

Two Ohio State Buckeyes are taking it easy as the defending champions brush up on fundamentals. Tackle Thornton Dixon pulled a leg tendon and End Frank Clair is idle with a groin injury.

Coach Harry Stuhldreher of Wisconsin yesterday named his first team for today's scrimmage. Dick Hornally, tackle, being the only sophomore in the group. Wallace Keating, sophomore who gave up football recently, rejoined the Michigan squad Friday to bolster the Wolverines' supply of centers.

George Franck returned to the Minnesota squad Friday after being out with an injury, but isn't expected to see action in today's scrimmage. Northwestern's Wildcats put on a long aerial drill with Sophomore Otto Graham sharing the honors with Bill De Correvont, Red Hahenstien and Don Kruger.

At Purdue

Purdue's Mal Edward is experimenting daily with backfield combinations seeking an effective unit.

LONG WAY FROM HOME

New York—Nick Portageas, V. E. football candidate, comes from Constantinople.

THREE QUINTETS SWEEP SERIES IN FRIDAY BOWLING

Dixon Cafe Leads in Major League in Second Week

"Three-up-and-three-down", the strategy of baseball became the by-word of the Dixon Recreation bowling alleys last night as three teams swept their series. As the result of the second week of the Major league season, the Dixon cafe remained to lead the circuit while Freeman jumped into a tie. The State Highway quintet is now second.

Individual records remained the same but Sunnybrook snatched team records from Kelly's Budweiser. The Sunnybrook five won three games from the Chauffeurs with J. McCordle's 508 topping the losers and Klein rolling 571 to paced the winners.

Freeman won three games from Kelly's Budweisers with Smith's 470 leading the shoemen and D. Fluhr paced the losers with 465.

Highway Wins Three

The State Highway won three games from Dick's Tavern with R. Finn leading the losers with 424 and Miller's 432 pacing the highway men.

Dixon Cafe won two games from the Dixon Paint, Wolfe's 569 led the winners and Daschbach was top man for the painters 545.

High team game was won by Sunnybrook with 1046 and the same quintet took high team series with 2957.

High games last night included those of: Ridlbauer 200; Daschbach 217; Klein 201.

In a rainbow of ceremonial color the Purple and White of the Dixon Dukes stood out in glory last night as the newly-lighted athletic field became hallowed ground and dedicated to a promising future with a 14 to 0 victory over Mt. Morris.

A record crowd of more than 2,500 persons helped to inaugurate the new era of football here and even the weatherman put a smile on the moon, the only recognized gate crasher.

Mt. Morris joined the list of friendly rivals last night and all those connected with the program were doffing hats to Coach Wend-

Schrad and his boys for turning out to be thoroughly worthy foes.

As for Coach C. B. Lindell's boys, they looked as good last night in their debut as the 1939 team did at mid-season, and gave every encouragement for a successful campaign.

The night was meant to be perfect from sunset to the dousing of the Mazdas. There wasn't a number of the team which didn't respond to the inspiration of the new lights and outstanding in the lot were Bill Shultz, Robert Sanborn and John Vaughn who carried much of the offense, and members of the line took their bow as a unit.

Of the Mt. Shultz probably is the most improved of the group and showed himself a flashy end. He was responsible for one of Dixon's touchdowns and both conversions by placement. Fleet of foot, young Vaughn was in on many of the tackles, and often when they counted the most. Robert Sanborn's drive through the line scored the first touchdown.

Dixon's forward wall took the test from Mt. Morris on two serious invasions into the Dukes' territory in the second half—and held.

A smooth passing combination of Ballard and Shoemaker to Merriman sparked the aerial attack of the Mounders and Coach Schrad's men demonstrated here that their fellow members in the Rock River conference had better look to their laurels; here is a team that is going places.

On the opening kickoff Kelly took the ball on his own 15 and romped to the 40 before he was downed. On first play Vaughn took the ball on a reverse from Sanborn and went two yards before he was tackled by Ballard. On another reverse Kelly carried the ball around right end for one yard.

On a spinner Sanborn went through the line for four yards. In fake punt formation Kelly instead romped around right end and was thrown for a ten yard loss by Merriman.

Ballard of Mt. Morris fumbled and Shoemaker recovered for the loss of seven yards and another fumble threw the Mounders back to their own 48. Shoemaker's pass to Merriman was incomplete and Ballard punted out of bounds on Dixon's 24.

Dixon Penalized

Dixon was penalized for illegal shift of the backfield and on the next play Sanborn went through center to the Dixon 28. Walder called for the ball and handed it to Sanborn who made it a first down by plowing through the wall to the Dixon 40.

A fake reverse failed to gain for the Dukes. Walder's pass intended for Shultz was incomplete. Sanborn took the ball on a spinner and gained three yards, forcing the Dukes to punt on fourth down. Shiaras tackled the receiver on the Mt. Morris 23 yard line for no return.

Ballard tried the center of the line but was brought down for no gain by Weaver and Shiaras. Ballard kicked to Walder on the 33 and the Dixon player galloped to the 45 before he was dropped.

On a fake reverse Walder picked up about a half yard. Sanborn's pass was intercepted by Ballard on the Mt. Morris 48 and he cleared the way to the Dixon 44.

Pass Intercepted

Tackles by Shultz and Sanford dropped the Mounders for no gains on the first two plays and Ballard's pass was intercepted by Vaughn on his own 40 and he sped to the Mt. Morris 43.

Fannie Vosburg Fleming was born Dec. 22, 1868, at the home of Sardias and Ellen Atherton Vosburg on a farm in Willow Creek township in Lee county, Illinois. She attended school and grew to womanhood in that community.

On Dec. 3, 1890, she was united in marriage to William Fleming at Sandwich, Illinois. After marriage they returned to their home in that community where they started farming.

To this union was born three children, Elmer, Ella, and one daughter who died at birth. In 1921 they moved to Paw Paw, where they resided at the time of her death on Sept. 7, 1940.

She attended the Methodist church regularly and was a member of the Triple S class of that church. She was a highly respected citizen of Paw Paw and community and was loved by all.

She is survived by her husband, one son, Elmer Fleming of Shabbona, one daughter, Ella Howland of DeKalb; three grandchildren, Doris, Joyce and Wanda Fleming, and one brother, Wm. Vosburg of Lee, and one sister, Nellie Moffatt of Paw Paw.

Services were held privately from the home on Monday afternoon with Rev. James H. Hagerty of the Paw Paw Methodist church officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Nangle sang "Abide With Me" and "Lead Kindly Light." Burial was in the Fairview cemetery at DeKalb.

Those from out of town attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Bethel of Joliet; Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Miller of Dixon; Mr. and Mrs. Clem Miller of Amboy; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cutts and son Keith of St. Charles; Mrs. F. H. Morris and Mrs. Wm. Barnes of Joliet; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Cutts of St. Charles; Mrs. Celia Woods of Burlington; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Fairclough of Rockford; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Cutts of St. Charles; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hackman of Genoa; Mrs. Anna Cutts, Miss Florence Cutts, Mrs. Rose Howland, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Beckman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hotchkiss, Mr. and Mrs. George Fleming and Harley Fleming of DeKalb; Mr. and Mrs. Tony Thompson, Wall Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fleming, Wm. Vosburg, Mrs. Jacob Maakestad, Miss Nellie Plant, and Miss Kate Plant all of Lee; Mrs. Ella Story, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Cutts and sons, Clara O'Kane, Mrs. Mariah Burke, Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Byrd, Charles Hunt of Shabbona.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Foiles Dies
Mrs. Fred Foiles passed away on Thursday evening after a short illness. Funeral services were held at the Rollo Congregational church on Sunday afternoon. Burial was in the Wyoming cemetery.

Alice May Belt was born on Feb. 8th, 1866, at Moccasin, Indiana, one of seven children of Wm. Belt and Emily Davis who moved to Indiana from Virginia. Her mother died when she was six years of age. Mrs. Foiles came to Paw Paw with the Clark Agler family when she was eight years old. She stayed here for several years, then returned to Indiana, where she taught school for two years.

She married George Heslop, who died two years later. One child was born to this union, Metta Belle Heslop, who died in Paw Paw in 1906 at the age of nineteen.

Alice May and Fred Eugene Foiles were united in marriage on March 7, 1894. They resided on the Foiles farm until Feb. 1939, when they moved to Paw Paw. To this union was born three children, Lucille Fern, who died in 1918 at the age of nineteen, Leon and William of this community.

Mrs. Foiles spent several years as a school teacher, teaching four different schools in the vicinity of Rollo, and the East Paw Paw Seminary. She has always been interested in public schools and community life.

She leaves to mourn her passing, her husband, two sons, six grandchildren, four brothers, Dorsey, Frank, Will and Charles, four half sisters, Edna, June, Joyce and Margaret, all of Indiana. And many other relatives and friends.

On Monday evening the Men's Council of the Baptist church met at the church recreation room for a regular monthly meeting. A very good number were on hand for the event. An interesting program was presented with R. L. Tarr and Rev. Meyers giving talks on their recent trips. After the program refreshments were served.

Illinois Ballots
In November Poll
Will Be Smaller

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 14—(AP)—Ballots which Illinois voters will mark in the election this fall will be considerably smaller than those of previous presidential election years, state officials predicted today.

Indications were that not more than five, and probably only four parties would gain places on the Illinois ballot which listed candidates of six parties in 1936.

Harry Fleischman, state secretary of the Socialist party, announced in Chicago that the party's petitions bearing 25,000 signatures would be filed here Monday. Norman Thomas is the Socialist presidential candidate and Arthur G. McDowell, Chicago, the candidate for governor.

Other minority party petitions for 1940 ballot recognition known to have been in circulation are those of the Prohibition and Communist parties. The Communist candidates already have encountered official opposition, however.

Court Upholds Ruling
Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes recently held that Earl Browder, Communist candidate for president, and other nominees of the party would be required to file petitions signed by at least 25,000 eligible voters. The state Supreme court upheld the ruling when it dismissed a mandamus petition filed in the name of a Communist party member.

Four years ago Communist party petitions were rejected by the state electoral board as failing to meet requirements of the election law.

All of the minority parties must file such petitions because they failed to receive five per cent of the votes in the last election. The last day for filing independent petitions is Monday, Sept. 16.

Minority parties that succeeded in obtaining places on the Illinois ballot four years ago were the Union Progressive, whose presidential nominee was William Lemke; Socialist Labor, Prohibition and Socialist. The presidential candidates of all four parties received less than 104,000 votes combined.

Class I railways of the U. S. had 16,933 new freight cars on order on July 1, 1940, compared with 10,062 one year ago.

The Thoroughbred Stud Book of Horses first was published in England in 1793.

New York City had 118,456 municipal employees in 1939.

Notice of Delinquent Special Assessments in the City of Dixon, Illinois

Nazi Warning?

(NEA Telephoto.)
As Nazi bombers opened "life or death" battle with royal air force, one German flyer, defying defenders, made smoke scrolls in sky over Metropolitan London. Cablephotoed from London.

Jewish Home in Berlin Bombed

(NEA Telephoto.)
Censor approved caption on this radiophoto from Berlin says it shows damage done Jewish Olds People's home on Auguststrasse, in heart of Berlin, by British bomb during R. A. F.'s heaviest attack on German capital.

Approved by British Censor

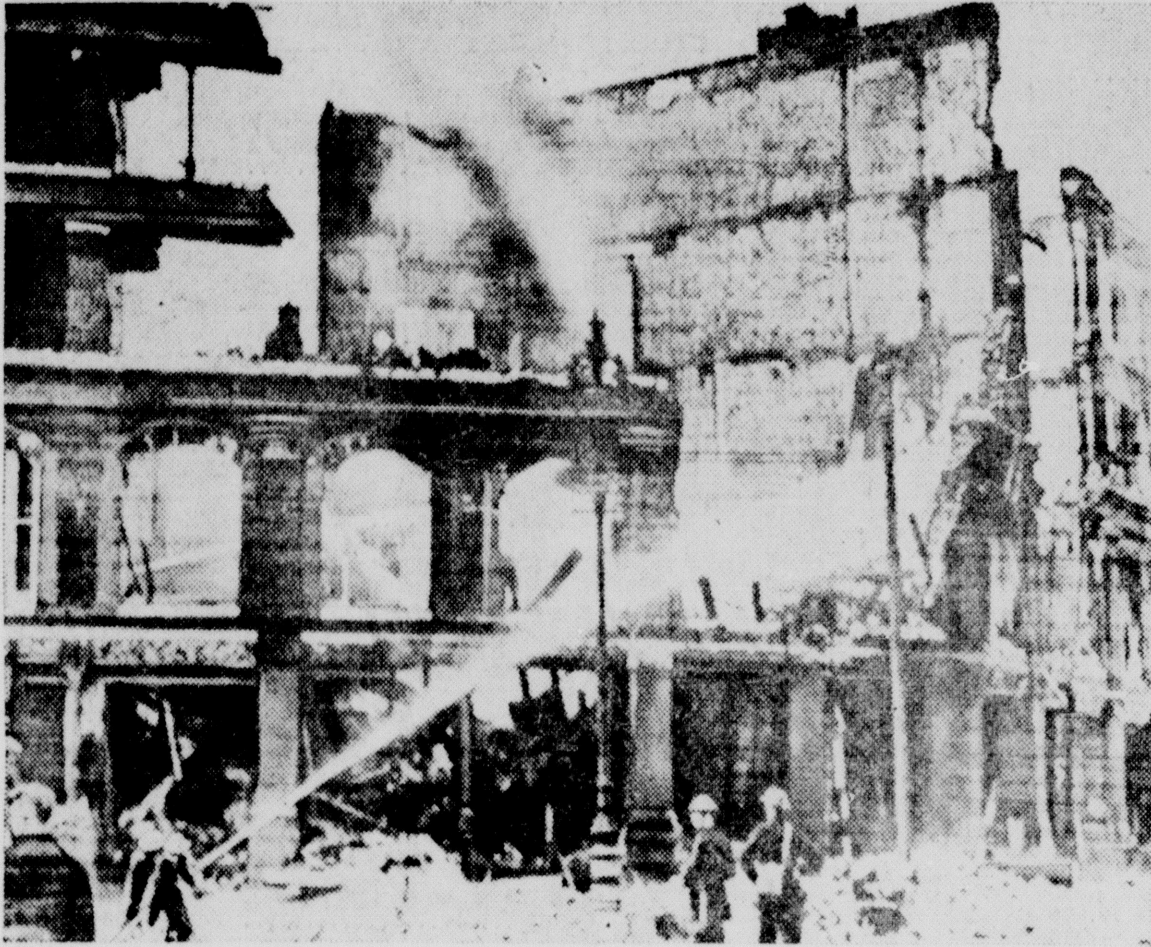

Photo above, of British showgirls catching up on the war news between their acts at London's Windmill Theatre, was approved by the British censor. We like it, too.

Nazi Bomb Rips Corner of Buckingham Palace

King George and Queen Elizabeth (center) inspect damage done to conservatory of Buckingham palace, their London residence, by German delayed action bomb apparently dropped during one of the raids of last week-end. It is reported the royal family was at Windsor castle when the bomb fell.

Fire and Ruins Left by Bombers

(NEA Telephoto.)
Firemen and air raid wardens direct hose on remains of row of buildings, set afire during incessant Nazi bombardments on London in attempt to render paralyzing blow to the British capital. This photo cabled from London.

Repair Squads Follow in Bombs' Wake

Homes of working people were the worst sufferers as Germany's air attack on London rose to new heights of fury. Above, workers are clearing away wreckage of a blasted house while repairmen seek to put the corner lamppost back in working order.

Italian Guns Blasting a Sliver Off British Empire

Great Britain lost the first sliver of its colonial empire in the war when overwhelmingly stronger Italian forces took British Somaliland. Photo above shows Italian battle troops advancing over the desert behind a barrage laid down by Italian artillery.

Charming Outlook for Hollywood

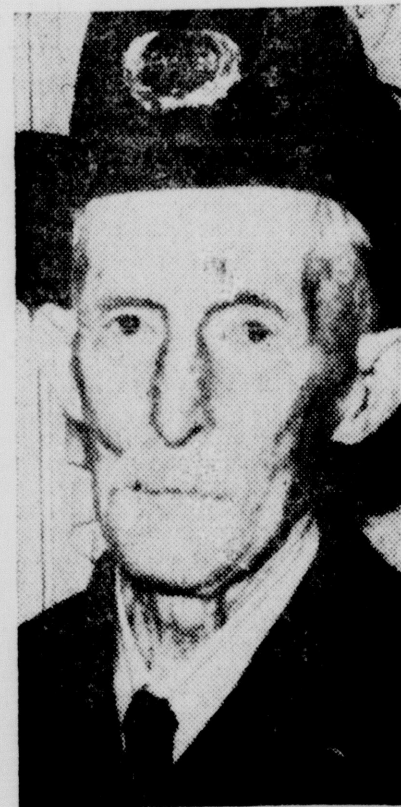

Europe being what it is these days, comely Signe Hasso, Finnish film actress, feels a lot better off, now that she's in the U. S., complete with Hollywood contract. Reaching America via Trans-Siberian Railroad and ship to San Francisco, she gets her first view of the Golden Gate through this porthole.

Heads Navy's New Bases in Alaska

Capt. Ralph Chandler Parker, above, recently appointed commander of the newly-created 13th Naval District in Alaska, heads one of Uncle Sam's most important outposts. He will have charge of the area where the navy is building a $7,900,000 chain of air bases at Sitka, Unalaska and Kodiak.

Residential Section in Shambles

(NEA Telephoto.)
After Nazi planes paid a visit to one of London's residential sections, they left this scene of destruction: Gutted homes wrecked automobiles, a cratered street. Cablephoto from London.

Uncle Sam's New "Winged Bullet"

Like a gigantic steel-jacketed bullet with wings is this new dive-bomber, being ready for U. S. Navy trials at the Curtiss-Wright plant, Buffalo, N. Y. The artist's conception shows it at the bottom of dive, just after releasing bomb. Designed for aircraft carriers, the low-wing, all-metal Curtiss XSB2C-1 has unusually heavy fire power and carries increased bomb loads over long distances. It has a 14-cylinder, 1700-h.p. Wright engine, but other construction details are secret.

BROTHERHOOD

There is a destiny which makes us brothers.
None goes his way alone.

—Edwin Markham
Or a truth, men are mystically united, a mysterious bond of brotherhood makes all men one.

—Carlyle
Down in their hearts, wise men know, this truth: the only way to help yourself is to help others.

—Elbert Hubbard
Love for mankind is the elevator of the human race; it demonstrates Truth and reflects divine Love.

—Mary Baker Eddy
Let brotherly love continue.

—Hebrews 13:1
I do not hunger for a well-stored mind.

I only wish to live my life, and find
My heart in union with all mankind.

—Edmund Gosse

John Ullrich

John Ullrich, lifelong resident of Lee Center, Illinois, passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Starks, Dixon, at 2:30 P. M. Sunday Sept. 8, 1940, after an illness of five weeks.

Mr. Ullrich was born in Germany, in 1856 and came to this country, with his parents at the age of two years.

He was married on November 3, 1886 to Katherine Weishaar of Bradford township in Lee county. To this union were born three children, two girls and one boy.

Preceding him in death were his wife, Katherine, who died in 1919 and his daughter, Mrs. George Dunseth, (Lucy) who died in 1921. Also one sister, Elizabeth and three brothers, Samuel, Christ and Henry.

Those left to mourn are his daughter, Mrs. Frank Starks (Clara) of Dixon, son Roy Ullrich of Franklin Grove and two sisters, Miss Margaret Ullrich and Mrs. Katherine Taylor and one brother, George Ullrich, all of Lee Center, also five grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon at the Hicks funeral home. Rev. Cox of Lee Center had charge of the services. Burial was in the Lee Center cemetery.

Attended Funeral

George Westfield and son Thomas, Miss Blanche Gilbert, Mrs. Eva Miller and Miss Eunice Gilbert attended the funeral of Mrs. Addie Gilbert in Ashton Wednesday afternoon.

The deceased was united in marriage with Thomas Gilbert of this place in September 1898. Mr. Gilbert died several years ago. He was a brother of Miss Blanche Gilbert of this place.

Lorraine Smith Married

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Smith of Broadhead, Wis. formerly of this place announce the marriage of their daughter Lorraine to William Keich of Beloit, Wis.

The bride wore a dress of dark brown silk crepe with wine accessories, and she wore a shoulder corsage of white rosebuds. After their return from a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Keich will be at home in Beloit where he is employed by the Western Union Company. The bride is a granddaughter of Joe Ling and a sister of Mrs. Raymond Cook and Mrs. Maurice Hussey of this place besides a number of other relatives.

William H. Wolford

William H. Wolford, son of William and Rebecca Wolford was born at Downsville, Maryland, Feb. 14, 1872 and died at Franklin Grove, Sept. 9, 1940.

He was united in marriage to Minnie Cline, December 28, 1892. To this union were born three sons and two daughters. Mr. Wolford came to Franklin Grove about 35 years ago. After one year he moved to a farm near Ashton. He was a carpenter as well as a farmer and lived in this community until 1918 when with several other families he moved to Langdon, N. Dak. where he lived until two years ago.

Two children died several years ago. About two years ago Mrs. Wolford passed away and Mrs. Wolford's health was very poor. His youngest son brought him back to Franklin Grove where he made his home with his son, Raymond. He was not well any of the time but about a week ago he took worse and gradually grew weaker until Monday night when he passed away. He was a member of the Church of the Brethren uniting with the church about 32 years ago.

He leaves to mourn his loss one daughter, Mrs. Nora Spratt and son, Elmer of Langdon, North Dakota.

HOLD EVERYTHING!

"Have you any dog biscuits?"

kota and one son, Raymond with whom he lived with. These join with other relatives and friends in mourning his death. Funeral services at the Hicks funeral home in Franklin Grove by Rev. S. L. Cover, pastor of the Church of the Brethren, on Wednesday, after which they left with the body for his old home in North Dakota, where funeral services will be held and interment at Langdon.

Softball Schedule

In a route "72" conference meeting Tuesday evening at the Stillman Valley high school a softball league was established and schedules arranged. The games are to start this Thursday afternoon and continue until each school has played six games, playing each school in the league at least once. However Franklin Grove will not play until next Tuesday afternoon when the Wildcats will inaugurate the season with Ashton on the local diamond.

The Grove's schedule is as follows: Tuesday, Sept. 17—Ashton at Franklin Grove. Thursday, Sept. 19—Forreston at Forreston. Thursday, Sept. 26—Stillman Valley at Stillman Valley.

Tuesday, Oct. 1—Leaf River at Franklin Grove. Thursday, Oct. 3—Ashton at Ashton.

Tuesday, Oct. 8—Forreston at Franklin Grove.

This, with the possible addition of two games with Lee Center will complete the schedule.

All games are to start promptly at 3 P. M. A trophy will be rewarded to the winning team.

Wildcat's Squad

Over thirty boys reported for softball practice Monday. By Wednesday the squad was cut to about twenty boys. The outlook at the present is for a better than average team. However all the other route "72" schools have experienced teams, which will give the Wildcats, as beginners, a real up-hill job.

The enthusiasm and spirit thus far has been excellent and points to satisfactory results. The probable starting line-up will probably include Bob Myers, Gerold Brown, Richard Meyers, Bud Howard in the outfield; Heckman, 1b; Maronde, 3b; Shaulis, 2; Lee, ss. The battery will be Ivan Hullah, catcher, and George Miller, pitcher.

New faces will include Lee, a former Monroe Center star athlete at shortstop and Wayne Shaulis, last year's grade school performer at second base.

George Miller has developed into a fine performer and with his experience in the Ashton league this past summer should come up to the high expectations held for him. Other boys that can be relied upon are Richard Yingling, Don Bennett, Franklin Heller, Arthur Lighthall, James Middleton, Frank Meyers, Howard Karper, Melvin Unger, Wallace Karper and Gerald Smith.

Christian Faith Offering

A Christian faith offering will be lifted Sunday morning at the Church of the Brethren. Numbers of Brethren young people are in the war torn areas helping the suffering and starving, his offering will show your faith in the Christ way of life and your interest in standing behind this great work. At the same time others of our number are along with this help telling the spiritual needy how to find an abundant life in Christ. Will you come prepared for this offering?

Methodist Church

For Sunday morning, Sept. 15, in the unified service the subject of the sermon will be "How Much is a Soul Worth?" The lesson topic will be "The Ever-present God". Unified service 9:30-11:00 A. M. Anyone not connected with another church is invited to attend the service of worship, study, and fellowship.

The Epworth League organized on Wednesday, Sept. 11, and will meet at the time to be announced.

The first regular meeting of the Woman's society of Christian service will be held next Thursday, Sept. 19, 2:00 P. M. at the church, unless announcement is made in the bulletin differently.

Conference will be held at Freeport this year from Oct. 1 through 7. One session will be held at Mt. Morris where the conference was organized in 1840. With the conference so close to Franklin Grove many are planning to attend at least part of the time.

Brethren Church

Sunday school at 9:30 A. M. September will be Homecoming Month in our church program. Let us plan to be present every Sunday. Worship at 10:30. The subject will be, "The Teaching of Jesus on the authority in all matters of the soul. This quarter we will be impressing the Christ in life and service. Special number by the choir.

The evening of old fashioned revival hour will begin at 7:30. The young people of the church will lead the worship and the sermon will follow on. Where we fail.

Choir practice Thursday evening at 7:45 and all members of the choir are urged to be present. Ladies Aid on Wednesday. There will be a men's meeting on Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the church.

Poet Honored

The American Poetry Magazine Company, Incorporated, makes a business of presenting books to authors of poems especially excellent. On Tuesday Miss Adella Helmershausen received two gift books in honor of her poem, "Wood Fires and Songs of Dream."

One book is "Doane's Poems" by W. A. Doane, and the other one is "Forty Poems" by Edith Heilmann.

The poem was recently printed in The Telegraph. The Franklin Reporter, The Northern Illinois of DeKalb of Northern Illinois State Teachers College.

Interest is Tripled

The FFA boys under LaVerne Baker's capable leadership, made an excellent showing at the many county and vocational agriculture fairs this year. This year's entrants beat last year's figure by nearly three times as approximately $500 was divided among the boys in prize money.

The leaders in the local group were Raymond Pyse with $75 in prize money, Melvin Brucker with $50, and Robert Wilson with $49 to his credit. These figures do not include prize money from the fall festival showing.

The District Vocational Agriculture show at Morrison is considered to be the most important of all the shows since practically all the high school agriculture departments in this section compete. Franklin placed in the upper quarter in this competition among the 19 schools entered.

The first ten by rank at the Morrison show are listed below:

1. Erie, $155; 2. Dixon, $142; 3. Geneseo, $141; 4. Amboy, $135; 5. Franklin Grove, $122; 6. Wethersfield, $89; 7. Ashton, $86; 8. Reynolds, $85; 9. Morrison, $74; 10. Annawan, $57.

This Saturday the Fat Stock Judging team competes at Urbana in the state finals of the judging contest.

School Enrollment

Both the grade and the high schools report heavy enrollments this year.

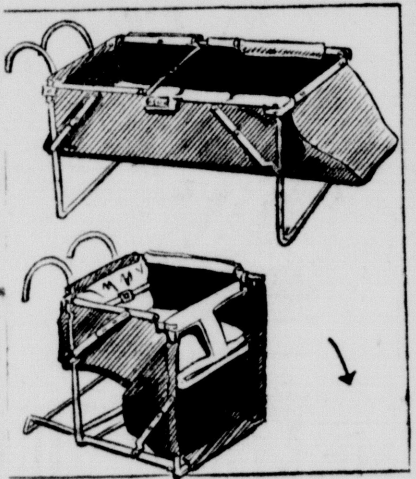

In the high school 83 have registered despite an unusually small senior class of eleven students. The present grade figure is 95 students, which ranks Franklin next to Amboy and Dixon among the county's larger elementary schools.

Space in the old building is being utilized to nearly 100 per cent as compared with the use of the building many years ago. The grades now use four class rooms instead of three and the high school uses three basement rooms as well as four other class rooms. By efficient planning of available building space patrons may be assured that the old building will serve the community needs for many years to come. The new room arrangements could easily accommodate 100 High School pupils or 120 grade school pupils, should future increases occur.

WHAT NEXT?

THE MERCHANDISE MART

Taking the baby on an auto trip is now no trick at all. He can't bob around or fall off the seat if he is placed in the combination bed-chair pictured above. When he is sleepy he can stretch out in a horizontal position (top sketch), with the bed held fast by the hooks fastened over the back of the rear seat. If he wants to sit upright (bottom sketch) the bed is quickly transformed into a chair with the hooks adjusted to the back of the front seat.
